Dreams Do Come True And . . .

We all came to this college on the waterway;
An institution focused on higher learning.
A simple college built on moral principles,
But large enough to prepare us for the world.
Our college is set among the beauty of nature,
Constantly — yet quietly — reminding us of our forefather's basics.
There is nothing fancy or flashy about our campus,
Which represents our understanding for confronting all problems with the eternal hope of a solution.

This Is Where They Start.

We are led in today's world by tomorrow's world leaders;
Striving toward the sincere hope of peace and prosperity.
We are a college filled with realistic dreamers,
Looking for that seemingly unattainable goal.
We all work together on each task that presents itself,
Prompting us to live by the code:
I became us . . .
and us became we . . .
and finally we became one . . .
and we are ITAWAMBA.

HI-POWER SHOT SHELLS

Open dorms provided students with the opportunity to unwind from their stressful study habits.

Water-skiing has become a popular outdoor event as this co-ed shows off while slaloming.

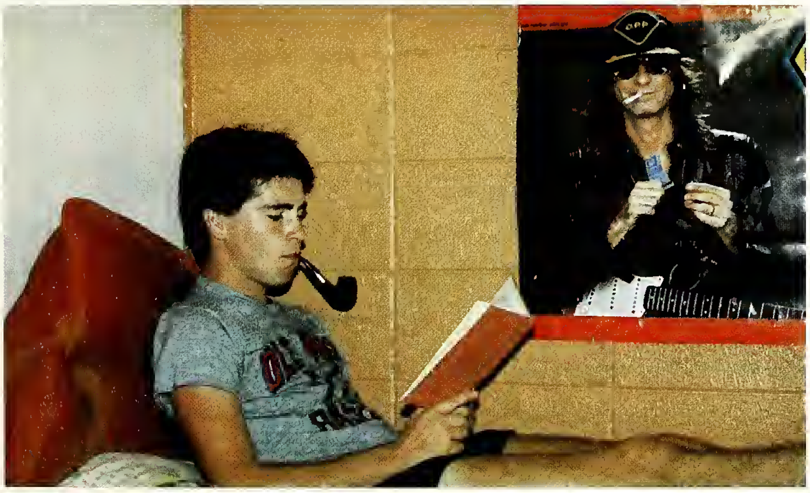
Stacy Rakestraw takes time out to phone home.

Trevanda Vasser looks over the Homecoming ballot before casting her vote as Rusty Knight awaits his turn.

Linwood Landroth concentrates on his studies before the big "test."

Free time among students is valued as nearly priceless. Class time may range from eight in the morning until after three in the afternoon, so the evenings are treasured for catching up on the day's happenings across campus.

Among the activities students enjoy include intramural sports, pool shooting at the Student Center or one of the area pool halls, relaxing in front of the tube, athletics, catching up on the next day's lesson, or spending time with that special one.



Practice Makes Perfect

The desire to excel is vital in the preparation for perfection. Although total perfection is not possible, practice is essential for striving toward that ultimate goal.

At IJC, perfection is a goal of each student whether academically or in athletics and extends much further than that actually.

Competition between students brings out the best in individuals therefore urging them toward the top.

Practice may not make perfect, but if we practice long enough or hard enough, "fame, power, life, and fortune have all named themselves a star," and will enable you to, too.

Melissa Freeman puts much concentration into the preparation of a painting in art class.

As a member of the All American Band, Wendy Andrews focuses on her music while trying to get her fingers synchronized.

A member of Kaleidoscope, Douglas Williams caresses the ivories at the piano.

"Just a gigolo . . ." Mary Ellen Bishop prepares as a member of the flag corps.

IJC is definitely a college on the way up as students learn by using computers in the library and Technical Education Building.

Mary Davis combines the latest in jeans with a sweater for a casual look for class.

Carla Williams soaks up the sunshine in a splash of bright yellow and black.

Itawamba sweatshirts provide comfort for Yolanda Cunningham, Janice Brown, Lisa Cunningham, and Rebecca Parker which leaves no doubt that Indians are the best.

Frank Pruitt and Elsie Moore are looking good while resting in front of Lee Hall.

A Hawaiian, big print shirt is Darryl Winstead's ticket to the Monster Mash.

The oversized bag is just right for the many necessities for a busy student.

Flashy Fashions

Sparkling in more than one way . . . Fashions of '85-'86 provided just the right spark for classes, that special date, the "big" game, "cruisin" or fun on the Tenn-Tom.

From the everyday look of denim to dressy, Itawamba Junior College students shone. With dress as different as each individual, accessories added to the "total look" . . . Straw purses — the bigger the better — held needed items. Stone-washed jeans in stripes, checks, or blue and black alternating patterns on front and back were trendsetters. Great-looking sweaters in every color of the rainbow and oversized shirts made their mark with big, bold designs. Wide gold chains sparkled in the sun. No matter what the fashion . . . IJC . . . you looked "mahh-velous."

The Modeling Squad stars in fashion shows throughout the year.

Debbi Coggins' gold chains shine in the sunlight.

Denim provides the basic wardrobe for IJC students, Cindy Towery and Justin West.

Fashion conscious, Missy White and Ken Todd spend free time between classes.

Relaxation is great after long hours in class if you're dressed for the occasion.

Jamie Gunnells, Frankie Yielding, and Cheryl Cockrell delve into the realm of science.

Glenda West, instructor, guides Steve Hensley, and Missy Loftin through a biology lab.

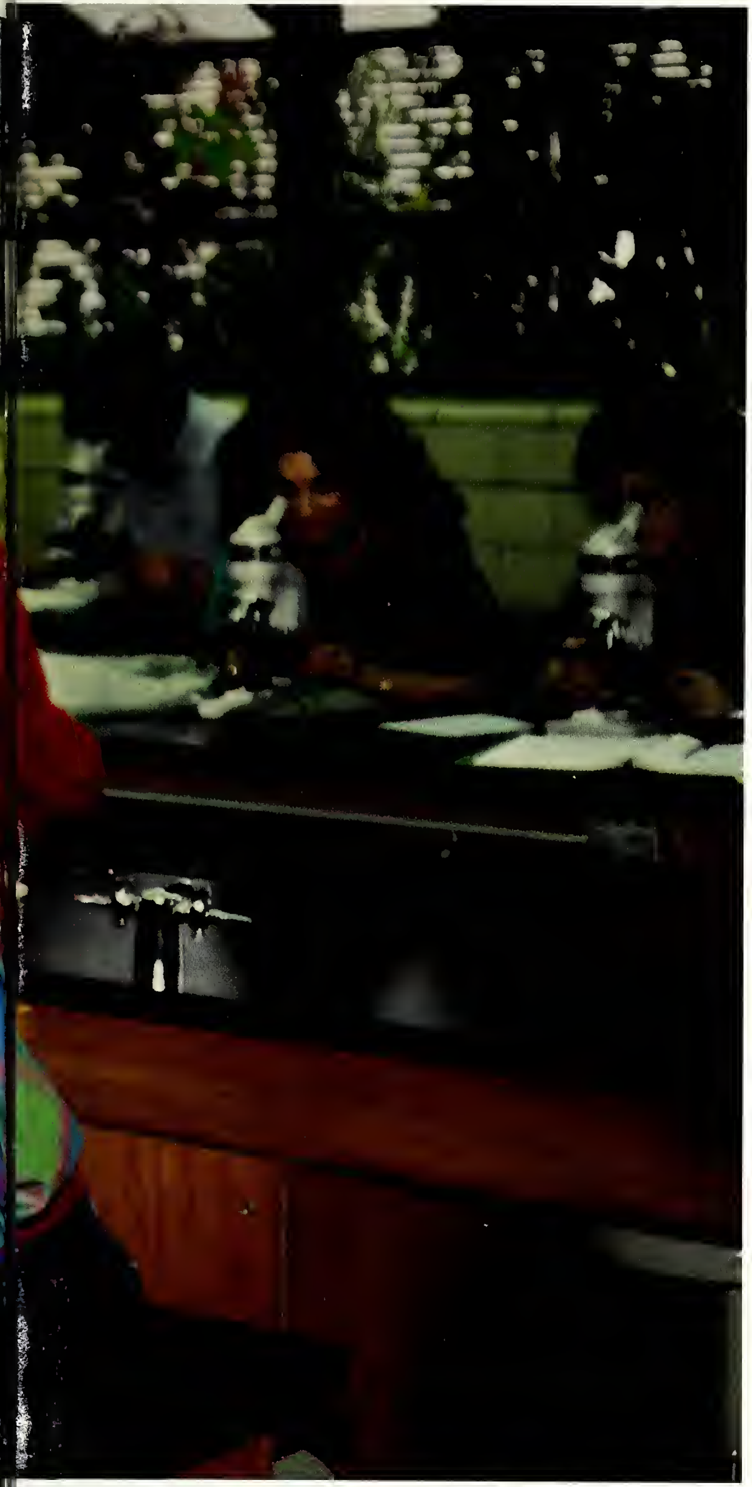
Billy May discusses the finer points of radiologic technology with Pat Daneils.

Robotics technology utilizes sophisticated equipment to give students on the Tupelo Campus the most up-to-date instructions.

Brenda Edmonson gives Randal Waycaster a few pointers in the new computer lab housed in the Learning Resource Center.



A Brighter Future

Dreams and goals become a part of a bright future. Whether plans include a career or further education, tomorrow's dreams begin today . . . "Climb high, climb far, your goal the sky, your aim the star."

Ideals are like the stars. We never reach them, but like the mariners on the sea, we chart our course by them. The '80's are packed with excitement . . . a glowing new age of technology . . . of lasers, robots and computers . . . an electronic era where super machines require their programmers to be highly skilled individuals. More sophisticated business and industry seek out the most quality personnel in a highly competitive market. It's an age where the real world is more than just a dream. It's making sure all the pieces of the puzzle fit to make a total picture — individuals shining with pride in where they were and how far they've come . . . "No star is ever lost we once have seen. We always may be what we might have been."

Perhaps poet Joe Darion says it best . . . "To dream the impossible dream, To reach the unreachable star . . ."

Sparkling Spirit

Indian Spirit was in full force this year as students had the opportunity to back an excellent sports program.

The Tribe football team knocked off nationally ranked Gulf Coast and Northwest en route to a national ranking of our own.

Students also cheered basketball, baseball, softball and tennis squads in what proved to be an excellent year on campus for the avid spectator.

IJC students reflected spirit through pep rallies, dorm yells, and game chants which led our teams to victory.

Indian spirit spreads through the crowd as IJC beats another foe.

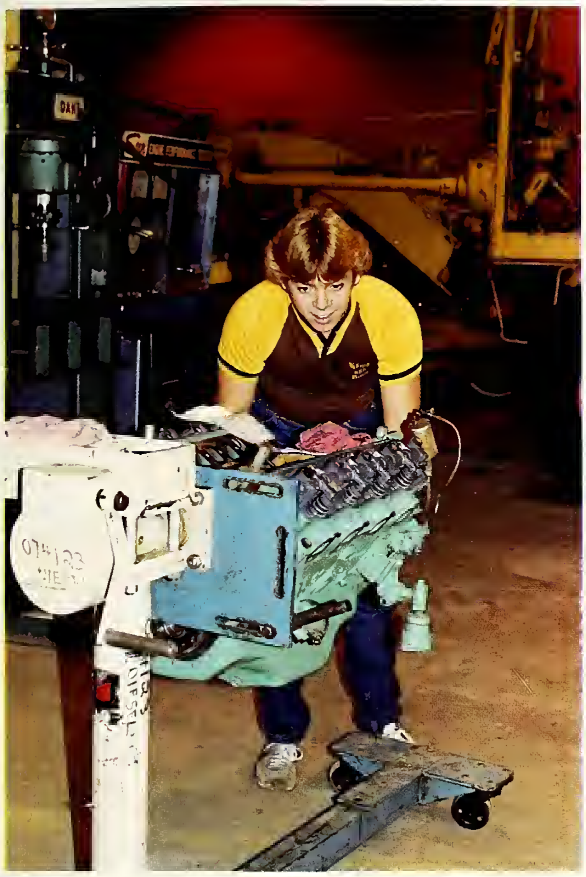
The Learning Resource Center is one of the central spots where minds spring into motion.

Tupelo Campus students discuss the programming of a robot.



Minds in Motion

Students in various technologies including diesel, distribution and marketing, health sciences, and automotive prepare for careers in the sophisticated '80's . . . a time of complex equipment that takes superior skill and knowledge to program . . . an exciting period in which many challenges shape the minds of all those who enter the job market in any capacity.

Star Light, Star Bright . . .

Students who shine . . . the outstanding individuals who take the spotlight in a starring role beginning to transform their dreams into reality.

Shining With Pride . . .

Clubs and organizations enable all students to share their talents, to fit the pieces together, and to shine with pride as one.

Monster Mash Is Smash for Political Science Club

The Monster Mash — this year's Halloween version complete with Jason, rock singers, a dead man and a human laundry basket — was another success — thanks to the diligent efforts of the Political Science Club, one of the most active Fulton Campus organizations.

Full-time students who are interested in political affairs are eligible for membership in the Political Science Club, sponsored by Dr. John Hughes.

Agriculture Provides Common Interest

Students who are interested in agriculture — related careers are members of the Agribusiness Club.

Working toward statewide competitions is an immediate incentive, planning for events and contests and conducting business sessions are highlights of the year.

Language Students Work Together

Students in Spanish and French formed the Modern Foreign Language Club.

A joint trip to Quebec or San Antonio was the priority project for which the group sold chances on a turkey at Thanksgiving and a VCR at Christmas.

Membership was open to students with passing grades currently enrolled in Spanish and French.

Artistic Insight Basis for Organization

Sponsoring visiting artists, attendance at various area exhibits, and trips to museums and galleries keep Art Club members busy.

The Art Club involves art majors and all other students interested in art, and the promotion of interest and unity among the members is their top priority.

Justice Is Aim of Student Court

A Chief Justice and six member representatives of the IJC student population comprise the Student Court. Students can appeal punishments or decisions to the Student Court for a hearing. Although decisions are subject to the final approval of the President of the College and the Dean of Student Affairs, students are allowed witnesses.

The Student Court began in 1984 for the appeal of disciplinary action cases.

Paste Sticks Children Together

A Halloween Open House sponsored by the Preschool Association for Students, Teachers and Educators (PASTE) provided an insight into the work of child development majors.

Each day students involved in PASTE spend lab time in the Child Development Center. They play with the children, teach basic skills, and supervise their play time.

The purpose of the organization is to promote early childhood education and to support nursery schools and child care in the area.

Home Ec Group Improves Life Quality

Improving the quality of life for families is the main concern of the Home Economics Club.

The organization is open to Home Economics majors and other students interested in the field of home economics to prepare better leadership and more involvement in professional activities.

PBL Co-Sponsors '85 Beauty Revue

The major project of Phi Beta Lambda, national fraternity for business students, was co-sponsoring the annual beauty revue.

Proceeds from the pageant were used to defray expenses for attendance at state conference where students participated in business-related competition including executive secretary, typing, accounting, and business law.

Members and sponsors coordinated the 1985 beauty revue, directed the contestants backstage, and attended to the many other details associated with pageant production. PBL members were invited to affiliate with Students in Free Enterprise, a non-profit corporation which operates an international competition designed to encourage college and university students to create new innovative and effective ways to teach free market values in America's communities.

Science Majors Experiment With Topic

Membership in the Association of Student Scientists is open to science majors and those who have a great interest in some area of science.

Student interest is enhanced through exploration of science-related vocations through guest speakers, films, field trips and other presentations.

Field trips highlighted the year's activities.

Black Student Association Serves Special Concerns

Although the Black Student Association was "slow in getting started," the organization exists to serve the special concerns of black students at IJC.

Historically, the group has conducted special programs in February to promote black awareness.

Baptist Student Union Message Is Same

The Baptist Student Union (BSU) has been a part of Fulton for 30 years. Though its leaders have changed periodically, the BSU sends the same message — "We want everybody on campus to have a relationship with God."

The BSU sponsors weekly events including student-led devotionals daily at 7:35 a.m. and Wednesday noonday luncheons. The activities allow commuters as well as campus residents to become involved.

Activity Is Key for Delta Epsilon Chi

Delta Epsilon Chi is a busy organization.

The junior collegiate division of the Distributive Education Clubs of America, Delta Epsilon Chi is open to distributive marketing technology and fashion merchandising technology majors.

The IJC chapter conducted its annual blood drive and sold items to fund trips to state and national competitions.

FRT Generous in Service Projects

The Future Radiologic Technologists (FRT) have worked unselfishly this year.

The groups began the James A. Herring Memorial Scholarship Fund and set a goal to raise $1000. Herring was the 1985 outstanding student who died after a year and a half battle with brain cancer.

Persons who are enrolled in the radiologic technology program or who plan to enroll may join Future Radiologic Technologists.

Members also x-rayed candy at the North Mississippi Medical Center Halloween night as a free community service.

Phi Theta Kappa Chapter Elected Regional Reporter

The Upsilon Sigma Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa is one of the most active organizations on the Fulton Campus.

The Chapter was elected regional reporter and members produced a newsletter.

Projects included participation in a cmapaign against driving drunk — SADD (Students Against Driving Drunk) and selling Tupperware to raise money for the spring trip to Philadelphia, PA.

The members continued with the Peer Tutoring program which included courses such as English Composition I, Accounting I, Chemistry, Algebra, and Finite Math.

Representatives attended the regional convention in Biloxi.

Chieftain Incorporates Work and Fun

The Chieftain is IJC's bi-monthly newspaper publication composed of students currently enrolled in Principles of Journalism or sophomores who were previously on the staff.

Although the basics of news reporting are taught during classtime, there are times when all seriousness is "thrown out the door."

Generally staff members have between 8-11 days in which to set up interviews, take notes, organize their thoughts and turn in their finished copy. Laying out the paper itself is where all the fun begins!

From setting the type, making corrections, and placing the stories in just the right spot the process of laying the paper out never has a dull moment.

Headlines are the final step in the process — and probably the hardest. Using a noun-verb in a few-word headline is more difficult than most imagine.

IJC Band Features All-American Lineup

Auditions began 1985-86 for the IJC All-American Marching Band which consists of the horn line, percussion line, flag line, rifle line, and dancers.

Practice started a week before the beginning of the fall semester with band camp with hours of "getting in tune."

Refining routines for performances at home football games, area marching festivals and Christmas parades kept the group busy during the first semester.

Practice does indeed make perfect as members did their best in each of the twelve performances.

Computer Group Plans a Statewide Association

Big plans are in view for the new Computer Club which was started in the fall on the Fulton Campus.

All majors in computer-related fields or persons with an extreme interest in computers were eligible for membership.

The group began work on the formation of a statewide computer science association for junior colleges

A field trip to the University of Southern Mississippi to view computer facilities and fund-raising activities were on the spring agenda.

SNA Project Is Abused Children

Involvement was first in the vocabulary of Student Nurses Association members for 1985-86.

Members worked with the County Welfare Department in a child abuse project.

Other projects include fingerprinting children at Wal-Mart and distribution of candy to patients of the hospital pediatric floor.

Recruitment was a priority for SNA members who participated in fundraising activities such as selling stethoscopes, blood pressure cuffs, and T-shirts.

Nursing or pre-nursing majors are eligible for membership in the association.

Public Awareness Is Respiratory Therapy Focus

The Respiratory Therapy Club promotes fellowship and a public awareness of their profession.

Members must be pre-respiratory therapy or respiratory therapy majors.

Forestry Members Share Outdoor Interests

A link between forestry and wildlife majors is the goal of the Forestry Club which promotes friendship and stimulates interest between the two fields. Guest speakers in forestry and wildlife management enhance knowledge of both areas.

SGA Speaks for Students

The Student Government Association is the backbone of campus activities including elections and campus improvement projects.

The promotion of spirit and enthusiasm through improved communication is the goal of SGA which functions as the voice of the entire student body.

The group consists of officers elected by the entire student body and representatives elected by specific classes and counties.

This year, the IJC Student Government Association hosted the Student Council Association of Mississippi (SCAM) leadership conference in Jackson in September.

Delta Psi Initiates Have Unique Experience

Students who had contributed a specified number of hours to the theater department are invited to join Delta Psi Omega, a national honorary fraternity for the dramatic arts on a junior college level.

Those invited to join this organization were required to wear a plaque bearing the Greek letters of Delta Psi and dress as a designated character on the final day of initiation. Their unique initiation is the only one of its kind on campus.

Long Hours of Practice Bring Applause as Indianettes Sparkle

Practice, practice, practice . . . the sparkle of the uniform glistening under the lights of the football field . . . the long hours of working, many in the hot summer sun, to produce the show of the week . . . all are part of the life of the Indianettes from late summer to the end of the Christmas parade season.

Working together as one to be the best motivated the group through heat and cold to be special representatives of IJC.

Four members of this year's squad were chosen to appear at the Super Bowl in New Orleans. Melissa Alldread, Cheryl Harper, Lisa Dill, and Susan Johnston were selected on the basis of tryouts at the University of Tulane when the 1985-86 American All-Star Dance Team appeared in a halftime performance.

Shining moments in the spotlight made all the work worthwhile as routines which sometimes became a chore brought applause, pleasure and enjoyment from the crowd.

Select Singers Form Girls' Ensemble

The Girls' Ensemble is a select group of singers from the Concert Choir. They performed with the Concert Choir and for civic groups in the area.

Members of the 1985-86 Girls' Ensemble were Kym Barker, Jane Bowers, Lynn Carter, Angie Jenkins, Roseanne Leech, Tina Rea, Terri Coggins and Anita Chastain. Accompanists were Marian Abel, Dee Winstead and Vicki King. Jo Orr is the director.

Drama Club Is "Class Act"

Both drama majors and others interested in the theater are invited to join the Drama Club which is open to students interested in any area of the dramatic arts.

Concert Choir Chosen Through Audition

The Itawamba Junior College Concert Choir under the direction of Jo Orr is a choral unit composed of students from the Fulton campus, non-music majors as well as music majors and minors. Membership is through audition before the director.

The Choir performs two to four concerts per year and participates in the State Junior College Choral Festival every February. Accompanists for the group were Marian Abel and Vicki King.

Men's Ensemble Is Latest Music Addition

The newly-formed Mens' Ensemble is an outgrowth of the Concert Choir. Members must serve in the Choir to be a part of this ensemble.

The Mens' Ensemble performed in two concerts in 1985 under the direction of Jo Orr with Marian Abel accompanying.

Interview Is Key to Delegation Selection

The Indian Delegation is a public relations group designed to familiarize campus visitors and prospective students with Itawamba Junior College.

The group consists of 10 Fulton Campus and 5 Tupelo Campus students chosen by faculty committees. For the first time in its history, the Fulton Campus Indian Delegation had a male member.

Members of the group are chosen each fall on the basis of personality, attractiveness, character, and grade point average.

Responsibilities of the Indian Delegation include campus tours to visiting high school students, visits to area high schools, serving at banquets, and assistance with special events and displays.

Mirror Reflects '85-'86 Review

IJC's yearly recap of the "year in review" is rightfully called The Mirror.

The staff is composed of students interested in design and lay-out of publications.

Coming from various backgrounds, the members of the staff must combine and pull in one way — toward the very best possible yearbook.

The yearbook is broken into many different sections, and students take what they feel is best suited for their talents.

Beginning with blank lay-out sheets the staffer designs a two-page spread with "blocks" for pictures, copy (writing) and captions along with a headline.

Getting the "just right" picture for the page is the next step. Staff photographers cover the events in the hope of capturing just the right moment.

But, cropping pictures, drawing up pages, writing copy, typing copysheets, and making pictures aren't all that's involved with yearbook production.

A yearbook is made up of individuals — those whose pictures are found within and those who work long, tough hours to record the year's history.

Although deadline times were hectic, personalities of the staff solidified to become one unit, more like a family. To the outsider, though, the publications area probably resembled a zoo with people working all over the floor. Most of the time inspiration came between bits of pizza and swapping dialogue with each other.

Despite the different environment, the staff came together as one to produce the latest star on the horizon . . . the 1986 Mirror.

SQUAD IS MODEL GROUP

Tryouts at the beginning of both semesters selected members of the Modeling Squad.

Criteria for selection included eye contact, posture, potential and being at ease.

Classes met twice per week. The fall semester covered mostly training while the spring semester included modeling shows. Color analysis and fashion show production were highlighted both semesters.

Instrumentalists and Vocalists Provide Excellent Blend in '85 Kaleidoscope Edition

"Positive and impressive talent," director Martha Tomlinson called members of the 1985-86 edition of Kaleidoscope, IJC's contemporary musical group.

The instrumentalists and vocalists provided an excellent blend, she said.

Three practice sessions per week enabled the group to perfect their talent for performances in area high schools and special events such as banquets within the junior college district.

Carousel Plays to SRO Crowd

"Standing Room Only" was available three nights of a four night run of the spring musical Carousel by Rodgers and Hammerstein, February 27 and 28 and March 1 and 2.

Nancy Collins of Tupelo, who played the part of Julie Jordon, won the hearts of the audience with her performance featuring the voice of an angel and the determination of a mule. There was not a dry eye in the house during the death scene of her husband, Billy Bigelow, played by world-renowned tenor Dennis Bailey.

Other cast members included Pam Prestage, Carrie; Martha Tomlinson, Mrs. Mullin; Allison Russell, Juggler; Russ Montgomery, First Policeman; James Lemmons, Bascombe; Jo Orr, Nettie; Bruce Lesley, Enoch Snow; David Bankeston, Jigger; Clayton Ledbetter, Second Policeman; K. C. Caldwell, Arminy; Carlos Diaz, Captain; James Anderson, Heavenly Friend; Eddie Barrett, Star Keeper, and Principle; Sharon Long, Louise; and Todd Goode, Enoch, Jr.

Soloists and chorus members were Melissa Alldread, James Anderson, Eddie Barrett, Sonja Benenfield, Jane Bowers, Carol Leigh Chatham, D. C. Caldwell, Kimberly Cason, Robyn Cogdell, Sherrie Cooley, Brian Davis, Carlos Diaz, Shawn Donahue, Noel Edmonson, Laura Fisher, Todd Goode, Julie Grimes, Cheryl Harper, Debbie Hayse, Kay Hodges, Kelly Kern, Donna Lathon, Clayton Ledbetter, James Lemmons, "G" Lipscomb, Bonnie Maharrey, Mark Maharrey, Russ Montgomery, Tina Morgon, Julie Riggs, Allison Russell, Barbara Russell, Angie Taylor, Cassie Tucker, Lori Youngblood, Jan Watson, Susan Webster, Lisa Whitt, Nancy Witt, Douglas Williams, and Betty Woodland.

Bob Tomlinson served as director while Martha Tomlinson was choreographer and assistant director. Jerry Cogdell was the chorus director and orchestra conductor.

Joseph's Dreams Come True In Musical

Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat was a high-energy, innovative production based on the Biblical account of Joseph and his coat of many colors.

The cast included Joseph, Rick Hargett; Narrator and Potiphar's Wife, Lisa Simmons; Narrators, Angie Jenkins, Jane Bowers, Mary Ellen Bishop; Potiphar, James Anderson; Pharoah, Eric Chunn; Baker and Zebulum, Hank Mallery; Butler and Gadd, Daniel Bland; Banjamin Calypso and Dan, John David Rogers; One More Angel in Heaven and Levi, Douglas Williams; Canaan Days and Asher, Mark Maharrey; Reuben, Gale Foxx; Dimeon, Darren Hudson; Naphali, Darryl Winstead; Isacar, Ricky Mitchell; Benjamin, Phillip Phipps; Judah, Adam Collins.

Soloists were Kim Patterson, Cindy Todd, Ann Teague, Belinda Haynes, and Jan Watson.

Chorus members were Melissa Alldread, lead dancer; Dawn Kitchens; B. J. Teague; Amanda Glenn; April Canup; Cyndi Tomlinson; Jim Tomlinson; Liza Tomlinson; Cindy Riggan; and Laura Moore.

The Broadway hit offered a variety of music including country/western, '60s go-go, French cabaret, calypso, and an Elvis tune.

Martha Tomlinson was director, and Marian Abel, accompanist.

BRASS

Brass instrumentalists form this group to study various Brass Repetone. Exposure to Chamber Music is a vital function of the group which is composed of music majors.

PERCUSSION

Percussionists form this group to play different percussion instruments and music.

JAZZ

In this 15-piece Jazz band, students learn a different style of playing and also have an opportunity to create through improvisation.

All Ensemble groups perform in recital class and in an Ensemble Concert each semester.

All groups are open to anyone by audition. Music majors are required to be in band and one ensemble in their area.

‘High Tech’ Is SME Chapter Focus

Beginning in 1985-86, a Student Chapter of the Society of Manufacturing Engineers untied those in such areas as electronics, robotics, and laser/electro-optics.

Field trips — one to see automation in action at Meridian — were highlights of the year.

The focus of the chapter was on high technology, our future.

Indian Delegation Relates IJC Message

Campus tours, recruiting, and hosting at special functions were the responsibilities of the Tupelo Campus Indian Delegation, a public relations group designed to enhance the image of IJC.

Applicants are chosen at the beginning of the fall semester. Criteria includes personality, attractiveness, character and grade point average.

SGA Focuses on Involvement

Officers elected by the entire student body and representatives elected by classes and counties provide the nucleus of the Tupelo Campus Student Government Association.

Involvement in elections and presiding over campus functions kept members busy throughout the year.

DPMA Utilizes New Technology

Students in data processing on the Tupelo Campus are automatically members of the Data Processing Management Association (DPMA).

Various projects and activities enable members to maintain an awareness of the latest in computer technology as they explore new horizons in their chosen field.

Electronics Connects Tupelo Students

The Electronics Club promotes the interest of students in the area of electronics while at the same time providing assistance with vocational goals.

Designed to promote unity and enthusiasm, the Tupelo Campus club always attracts large numbers of student members.

Alpha Alpha Mu Reorganizes in Tupelo

After being inactive for two years, the Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter of Phi Beta Lambda of the Itawamba Junior College Tupelo Campus reorganized during 1985-86.

Fundraising projects included the sale of novelty items and microcomputer diskettes.

The group assisted with the Northern District FBLA conference in February.

Students Sharpen Skills Through Tough Competition

IJC Reaches National Ranking

Citing the return of twenty two players from last season's dismal 4-6 team, Coach Mike Eaton predicted a winning season for his IJC Indians in the 1985 pigskin season. Led by quarterback Mitch Eubank the Tribe looked forward to opening the season against East Central.

Following a hard-fought 17-16 battle against East Central the squad faced Mississippi Delta, coming out on top in a 21-14 game. Next in line was Copiah-Lincoln Junior College of Wesson. Traveling on the road for the first time of the year, IJC dropped a 7-3 heartbreaker to the host Wolfpack.

Returning home to face East Mississippi for the annual Homecoming game, the Tribe unleashed their offensive attack enroute to a 14-7 victory over the Lions. Pearl River was next on the agenda, and as the Indians did in their first road game of the season they dropped the game, 28-17, leaving the Indians over-all record at 3-2 heading into the second half of the schedule.

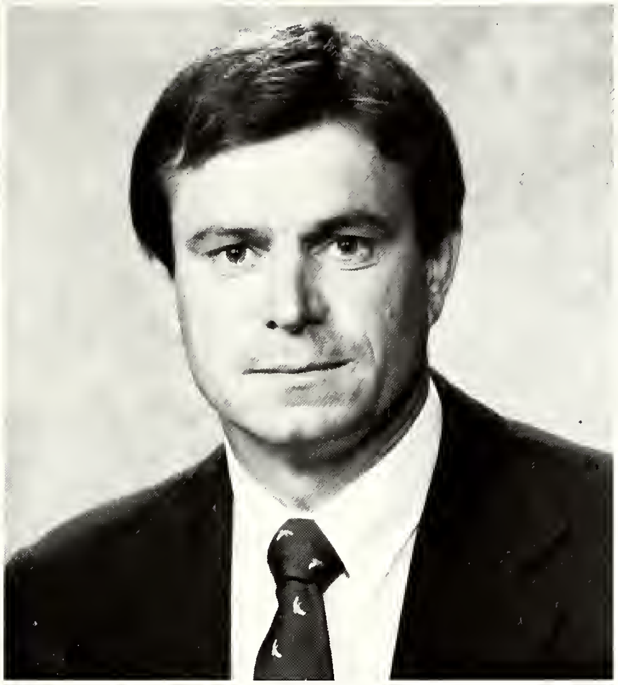
The annual rivalry between IJC and Booneville's Northeast Jr. College Tigers took place on campus, giving the Tribe the "crowd factor" advantage. IJC claimed bragging rights to the area with an impressive 24-13 win and in the process upped their district record to 3-0 before facing Holmes.

The Indians downed Holmes to run their district slate to 4-0 and looked to take on #1 ranked Mississippi Gulf Coast. The national ranking of the Bulldogs did little to sway the Tribe's morale, thus giving the Tribe the momentum to pull out a 14-10 upset.

Northwest followed MGCJC and the Indians for the second week in a row downed a nationally-ranked squad, this time trimming the Rangers, 17-13. Following the Indians' win over Northwest, IJC was placed among the elite by obtaining their own national ranking at number 14.

The Tribe finished its regular season with a 37-7 thrashing of Coahoma before entering the play-offs against Cophiah-Lincoln. IJC dropped the play-off game 21-18, finishing the slate at 8-3. On the strength of IJC's overall showing, Head Coach Mike Eaton was named Coach of the Year among his peers.

Coaching Staff Leads Indians to Victory



Head Coach
Mike Eaton

IJC Head Football Coach Mike Eaton has been at the helm of the Indian football program for 10 years, with only one losing season to date — that being the 1984 campaign.

Married to the former Marcia Mauney, Coach Eaton has two children, Laura and Mallory. They make their home in Fulton on IJC's campus housing for faculty.

Coach Eaton graduated from Mississippi State University in 1972 with a major in Administration. He participated in sports while at MSU, playing football.

Before coming to Fulton and IJC, Coach Eaton coached at Ripley High School in Mississippi, where he served as Assistant Coach. Coach Eaton joined the Indian Coaching Staff in 1974 as an Assistant Coach in charge of defense. In 1976 he was promoted to the Head Coach position when Ben Jones stepped down.

In 1985 Coach Eaton led the Indians to an impressive 8-3 overall record and an appearance in the state play-offs. On the strength of the Tribe's showing, Coach Eaton was tabbed for Coach-of-the-Year laurels for 1985 in the north district.

I.J.C. Men's Basketball Head Coach Wayne Newsom welcomed back three returnees from last season's squad and immediately looked for help from 7-8 incoming freshmen.

Opening the 1985-86 season hosting the Brewer State Bears of Fayette, AL, the Indians were led by freshman Roderick Jones' 16 points but couldn't overcome a 19-point halftime gap and ended up losing the game 71-60.

The Tribe split their next four contests; the Indians downed Meridian 83-78 in a comeback bid; Mary Holmes downed the Tribe 95-92 to drop the slate to 1-2 overall; Jackson (TN) State was next on the agenda and Mississippi State transfer Tommy Boyd poured in 24 points to lead the Indian attack in an 83-75 IJC win; the Indians fell to 2-3 following an 87-78 set-back at the hands of archrival Northeast Junior College.

The Indians' record slipped even further down before a late season surge brought the squad's overall slate to 9-10 following the Coahoma game.

The IJC attack was centered around Tommy Boyd, Ricardo Seals, Rodney Hodges, Chris Diggs, Oliver Johnson, Larry Hyde and Roderick Jones.

Lady Indians Head Coach Max Munn began the season with a group of "coachable" co-eds with a large portion of quickness, hustle and desire.

The squad opened the season at 3-1 by downing Meridian 84-68 in the season opening contest; next came Mary Holmes and a 84-72 victory behind Missy Farrar's 21 point performance; the team went 3-0 via a 72-69 win over visiting Jackson (TN) State before dropping the first game and initial conference date to Northeast Junior College by a 104-65 score.

The Lady Indians continued their winning ways and went as-far-as a 7-1 slate following a 60-53 win over Jones Jr. College.

The team rallied all season long behind Missy Farrar, Ellen Warren, Bridget Sims, Kay Ball and Tracie Hall.

Kelly & Hester Lead Tribe Attack

Although Coaches Linda Partlow and Max Munn were short on quality players, the softball team pulled through in the clutch to win some very important games enroute to a .500 season behind the inspired play of Renee Hester, Evette Kelly, Jackeye Rakestraw and Stephanie Wooten.

The two second year Lady Indians, Hester and Kelly, were the backbone of a relatively young squad which overcame many adversities throughout the campaign.

For their efforts on the year Hester and Kelly were selected among the state's top softballers in the junior college ranks.

Renee Hester drives a pitch during the Northeast Alabama game on the Fulton Campus.

Sophomore pitcher Renee Hester strides off the mound enroute to another Lady Indian win.

The 1985 Women's Softball squad, coached by Linda Partlow and Max Munn, compiled a .500 winning percentage despite facing stiff competition throughout the season.

The team was led by Renee Hester, Jackeye Rakestraw, Janice Wallace and Stephanie Wooten.

The Lady Indians effort was centered around eight sophomores while six freshmen also contributed immensely to the program.

The 17-17 overall record was a blessing in disguise since the experience the freshmen received will pay off in the upcoming season.

Evette Kelly and Renee Hester, both sophomores, garnered All-State recognition for the 1985 team.

Indians Complete 30 Win Season in 1985

The Itawamba Junior College baseball team completed a 30-14 season in its 1985 spring schedule.

Coach Roy Cresap's squad was led by Rich "Smooth" Wingo, Jimbo Byars, Jeff Morrison, and Jack Moore.

The team was comprised of 15 sophomores and 10 freshmen looking to gain valuable experience for upcoming seasons.

Five members from this year's team gained scholarships to senior colleges to pursue their athletic talents. They were Jim Byars, pitcher, Delta State; Richie Wingo, second base, Delta State; Anthony Berry, centerfield, Rust College; Richard Williams, catcher, Livingston University; and Mitch Hamm, second base, Livingston University.

The squad finished the season in third place, only a game from the play-offs.

The Indians were led offensively by Anthony Berry and Rich Wingo while Jimbo Byars and Sam McCraw led the pitching rotation throughout the campaign.

One definite plus for the team's overall showing was team attitude and an overall balance of sophomore leadership and freshman balance.

Sophomore Mike Edgeworth takes a rip at the ball. An exceptional power hitter, Mike was the dh for the Indians.

Brad Waycaster stares down at Coach Cresap to get his sign while preparing to bat.

Richard Williams takes time off from behind the plate to warm up the pitcher.

Indians Break In New Field with Winning Season

Coach Roy Cresap's Fall Baseball team had a very successful season preparing for the spring schedule.

Led by sophomore Jack Moore, the team downed such perennial powerhouses as Gulf Coast and Brewer State while fighting to a tie with Delta State University.

This was the first year in which the new baseball field was used, providing the team with excellent facilities in which to enhance their skills in preparation for the upcoming seasons.

Tennis Team Nets State Tournament Title

IJC's women's tennis team was comprised of four members for the 1985 Spring schedule.

Coach Linda Partlow's squad was led by Cindy Craig and Amy Smith while Carla Brangenberg and Amy Smith made up the No. 1 doubles team for the women.

Brangenberg was the first place finisher in the first division while Cindy Smith claimed the runner-up slot in the fourth division for 1984.

1985 was the season in which IJC returned a member to the top spot in a division after falling short in '84.

The IJC men's tennis squad once again was tops in the state, being led by Scott Lee and David Duke.

Coach Paul Johnson's men played power tennis throughout the year with Lee and Duke leading the way followed by David Cayson and Jason Palmer who were named 1985 No. 4 doubles state champions, MJCAA.

Lee and Duke were named 1985 No. 1 doubles state champions by the MJCAA. Duke claimed the No. 2 singles state champions spot.

The team landed in the state tournament for the sixth year in a row, adding to the IJC legacy of tennis dominance in the state.

Astros Pick Indian Shortstop

"Words can't express how I felt as I sat there and read the letter with my mouth wide open. I still have to pinch myself sometimes to make sure I am not dreaming."

These are the words of IJC's sophomore shortstop Jack Moore as he was informed, Friday, January 17, that he had been selected by the Houston Astros in major league baseball's winter draft.

Moore, who batted .315 for the Tribe in the spring and .397 in the fall, credits most of his success to Coach Roy Cresap. "Without Coach and Mrs. Cresap, I couldn't have done it. They have meant more to me than anybody in my life." Moore said. "I also think that if it were not for sophomore teammates and good friends, Keith Johnson and Bum Hastings, pushing me and just being there to pick me up when I fell, I probably wouldn't have had such a chance as this." Moore said.

Moore credited his success mostly to God, because "if it weren't for Him, none of this would be possible."

Colleges Recruit Indian Football Squad Sophomores

Members of the 1985 Indian football squad caught the attention of several university recruiters following a successful season.

Players who reported at the beginning of the spring semester were Steve Hill, nose guard, Murray State (KY); Mitch Eubanks, quarterback, Boyce Googe, offensive linemen, and Carl Dobbs, defensive end, Delta State; Anthony Dailey, defensive tackle and Asia Thorn, defensive back, Southeastern Missouri; David Poss, who is trying out at Murray State; Robert Joy, linebacker, Troy State (AL); Marvin Marsh, running back, University of North Alabama; and Calvin Thompson, tight end, Norfolk State.

Those who planned to transfer at the end of the spring semester were Curtis Williams, A. Q. Brownlee, Terry Bess, Mike Smith, and Bobby Joe Robertson.

Benjamin Cites Learning as Main IJC Goal

Dr. W. O. Benjamin is pleased with the progress of Itawamba Junior College in his 13 years as president, "But we still have a long way to go."

He predicts an optimistic future during which he would like to see continued improvement in instruction — "for IJC to expand its services . . ."

Learning, he notes, is the main goal of Itawamba Junior College. "I want the students to receive the skills, knowledge and wisdom that would enable them to be successful in their chosen career."

President Benjamin enjoys public involvement — "working with people" — which leaves very little time for relaxation. "I especially like to see people acquire the skill and knowledge that will enable them to be successful."

And he has devoted his entire career to that philosophy. From science instructor to school administrator, Benjamin has been a vital force in the educational process of many youth in Mississippi.

He attained Bachelor of Science, Master of Science, Master of Education and Doctor of Education degrees at the University of Mississippi.

Benjamin and his wife, the former Doris Sneed, have one son, Kent, who resides in Austin, TX.

President Benjamin has been a part of Itawamba Junior College during 13 exciting years. "I'm happy. It's a very rewarding experience."

Dr. W. O. Benjamin

Dr. Benjamin relaxes with wife, Doris, in the President's home on campus.

Many hours are spent in contact with other education officials across the nation.

Receiving a check for the IJC Foundation from bank official, Gary Walker, is one of President Benjamin's more pleasant tasks.

Reaching The Unreachable Star . . .

Catch a falling star and put it in your pocket . . . but never let it fade away . . . your dreams are one step closer to a bright future and reaching the unreachable star.

Facelift Gives "New Look"

Students who arrived on the Fulton Campus in the fall found a "new look."

Sidewalks were widened or replaced, and extensive overlaying of streets and parking areas made driving easier for students and staff. The project fits into a long-range landscape plan which is currently being studied by college officials.

Additional projects included the installation of storm drains and work in the dormitory parking areas. The landscaping of islands also was planned for future completion.

Other work on the Fulton Campus contributing to the "new look" were re-roofing of the Arts Building and the Physical Education classroom.

Bleachers were installed at the baseball field to provide seating for 200 Indian fans.

The Fulton Campus was a busy place last summer preparing that "new look" — a facelift which added a little comfort for IJC students and staff.

Dream Comes True

Traffic — many times bumper-to-bumper — crawled across the Tombigbee River on old Highway 78 as an army of ants marching single file.

But today that sight is history. A dream that started many years ago as a seed in the minds of the nation's leaders is now a reality. The Tennessee- Tombigbee Waterway, blasted partially from Itawamba County soil, some of which forms the perimeter of the Fulton Campus, sparkles in the sunshine with the freshness of beginning.

Reflections of the water stir memories of old Highway 78 that was relocated for the sturdy link between the Tennessee and Tombigbee Rivers and the Gulf of Mexico at Mobile, AL and the other obstacles that stood in the way of progress.

With the final completion of this historic waterway came many changes throughout the area. Many people had the opportunity to see their hopes fulfilled and their dreams come true, while still others realized that something good was just over the horizon.

The barges, the yachts, and the fishing boats that daily take advantage of Northeast Mississippi, experiencing its beauty like Huck Finn on the 'Mighty Mississippi,' appreciate the progress of the waterway and those who worked for its completion.

It's like a dream . . . attainable only if you'll reach for it . . . and catching the unreachable star.

Editor's Closing

What began as a dream in the summer of 1985 has now become a reality.

We met as complete strangers wondering if together we could organize a yearbook. Once we got to know each other we found we had many of the same ideas.

First of all, we developed a theme that would be expressed throughout the "Mirror." We then designed a cover to symbolize our theme, "When You Wish Upon A Star . . ." The staff met and the yearbook was divided into sections. Staff members selected the section they felt best suited their ability. The entire staff worked together in accomplishing the dream that started on a hot summer day at yearbook clinic at Ole Miss.

Many thanks are due many people . . . Ms. Donna Thomas, our advisor, who has been the bright spot of our year, and we will never forget her unending humor and her unfailing support. Without her guidance and encouragement, we would not have been able to publish this yearbook . . . Mrs. Arlene Riley, for all of her hours spent in the darkroom . . . and Mr. W. E. Boggs, for his moral support. We would also like to thank our staff who has truly been a delight to work with, and we gratefully acknowledge their time and dedication.

We hope that the "Mirror" reflects the memories of IJC in 1985-86, and as you turn the pages that those special times will be a part of you forever. We hope, also, that through this yearbook in some way you realize that having a dream and wishing on a star can both come true, if you sprinkle your life with enthusiasm and determination just as we did. If you try hard enough, your dreams will become realities just as ours did in this 1986 Mirror.

May this book be a constant reminder that you can dream the impossible dream — and reach the unreachable star . . .
